Cost

A once-off annual fee covers the cost of purchasing/hire of costumes, resources, printing, administration, and some performance expenses such as competition entry fees. Fees are non-refundable should a student withdraw from the program during the year. All fees go directly back into resourcing and sustaining the program. In 2025, the cost for Dance Troupe is $80/year. Once sign-up is complete, program fees will be added to the school fees.

In addition to annual fees, students are required to purchase the black jazz shoes and nude dance tights. Students are expected to wear their school sports uniform and jazz shoes for rehearsals each week. Shoes can be purchased from The Dancewear Closet at Move and Groove Dance Studio in Gatton. Please see page 17 for details.

Drama

Drama Clubs (even years) and College Productions (odd years) run bi-annually at Sophia College. In 2025, we are on a College Production year. Please refer to the Production 2025 Handbook for more information about this year's production of Grease.

College Production - 2025

The College Production is open to students across all year levels at the College. The production is announced in the previous year, and students audition for specific roles. There are generally several non-audition-based roles, including backstage and technical support roles.

Drama Crew - 2026

Drama Crew is for students in Year 7-8 who enjoy performing and wish to develop their skills in the discipline of drama. All students are welcome to be involved, no matter experience. Through game-based learning and activities, students will build confidence and connect with like-minded peers.

Theatre Association - 2026

Senior Drama Club is for students in Year 9-12 who are looking for a more intensive drama experience to grow their skills outside of the classroom. This group is audition based and has limited places. Students will work on larger more complex projects and engage more frequently with industry such as Queensland Theatres, The Scene Project.

Rehearsals and Communication

The College Production is performed off-site and significant outside of school rehearsal requirements are involved as per the rehearsals schedule provided. These rehearsals occur on Tuesdays from 2.00 – 5.00pm. Students are not always required at each rehearsal but are expected to be aware of their rehearsal schedule. Communication for this group is predominantly provided through Microsoft Teams.

Key Staff: Jaye Morrison, Renee Hamilton, Thomas Holsworth, Bronte Nash, Danika Colquhoun

Cost

A once-off annual fee covers the cost of purchasing costumes, resources, printing, administration, and some performance expenses. Fees are non-refundable should a student withdraw from the program during the year. In 2025, the cost for the College production is $90. Once sign-up is complete, program fees will be added to the school fees.

In addition to annual fees, students are required to purchase basic costume items. Students will be provided with a specific list of required items which may include make-up or other accessories. Families are responsible for sourcing these items by the expected date.

Music

Instrumental Music Tuition

Instrumental music tuition provides students with access to more specialised lessons than provided in classroom Music through either small group or individual lessons. It is strongly encouraged that students who elect to study classroom Music consider engaging in the instrumental music tuition. Currently, the program offers the following instruments:

- Flute
- Clarinet
- Alto Saxophone
- Trumpet
- Trombone
- Euphonium
- Drums/Percussion
- Keyboard/piano
- Guitar (Acoustic, Electric, Bass)
- Voice

All students who express interest in the program will be given an opportunity to learn an instrument provided they uphold the values of the program. Once a student starts learning an instrument, changing to a different instrument is generally not encouraged. It is important for students and families to understand that learning an instrument can be a slow process and that due to the individual skills required, changing instruments can often hinder enjoyment and engagement as it slows down the learning process.

While the program aims to provide students with their first preference of instrument, a number of factors are taken into consideration when offering students place in the program. These factors include but are not limited to:

- Past or current experience on an instrument through previous school or private lessons
- The instruments required to create a balanced band/ensemble
- A student's stature, coordination and specific learning needs can also impact on their ability to be successful on certain instruments

Timetables and Lesson Times

Lessons are organised on a term basis, with the provision of a minimum of thirty lessons per year. Individual music tutors are available on certain days and times. Lessons times and timetables are distributed directly by music tutors. Timetables are issued to each student at the beginning of the term.

Timetables will be posted on Microsoft Teams and by email from the music tutors. It is the responsibility of the student to check their lesson times for the following week and write their lesson time into their diary. This record is also used by classroom teachers to verify that a lesson is scheduled.

Although every attempt is made to keep lesson times on the same day from week to week, lesson times often change due to excursions, camps, public holidays, and other College activities.

Lesson timetables are negotiated early in the first semester each year. If students have a clash with their lesson time, they are encouraged to negotiate a more suitable time with their instructor as early as possible.

Missed Lessons

It is expected that Instrumental Tutors would be advised of a pending absence due to absenteeism. In the case of illness, the tutor must be contacted either by phone or email. Lessons missed by students, without prior notice, or adequate excuse will forfeit the cost of the missed lesson and the lesson will not be rescheduled. Where a student misses a lesson because of a College event (e.g., an excursion or an exam), the Music department will reschedule the lesson if prior notice is given.

Cost

Tutors invoice students and their families directly at the beginning of each term. These are payable to the tutor and the College do not accept any payments for lessons. The fees are determined in accordance with the Music Teachers Association of Queensland Guidelines and are reviewed annually.

Lesson Type – Brass, Woodwind	Per Lesson (30 mins)
Individual (recommended)	$41 + room hire fee
Group (2-3 students)	$28 + room hire fee

Lesson Type – Guitar, Percussion, Voice, Piano	Per Lesson (30 mins)
Individual (recommended)	$41 + room hire fee
Group (2-3 students)	$28 + room hire fee

Sophia OnStage

Sophia OnStage is a performance ensemble designed to suit the skills and interests of students. Both instrumentalists and vocalists are invited to join this group, with the focus being on developing skills of performance and group work. Sophia OnStage aim to perform regularly at College Gatherings and events. In 2025 the cost of joining Sophia OnStage is $40. This cost covers administrative fees, music rights, and staffing costs.

Instrument Hire

Sophia College does not have instruments available for hire. Students have the option of purchasing an instrument or hiring an instrument through Polygon Rental. Information regarding instrument hire can be found on the last page of this handbook. If students hire an instrument through our preferred company, all instruments will be shipped to the College ready for the start of the music year.

Storage

All instruments, when not in use, should be stored in the storeroom or tutor room within the Music Department and must be clearly labelled. Instruments should never be stored in the lockers. The College will not be held liable for lost or stolen instruments.

Termination of Lessons

On commencing lessons, students are required to complete one term's study. Should parents decide to withdraw their student before the end of term, it is necessary that such notice will be communicated to the Program Coordinator in writing. Where notification of withdrawal has not been received by the end of a term, payment is required in full for the following term, even if the student does not wish to take the lessons. This allows the College to meet its contractual obligations with part-time instrumental staff.

Student Expectations

Missed Rehearsals and Lessons

As performing in an ensemble is a group activity it is important that all students are present for all rehearsals. If a student is unable to attend a rehearsal for any reason, the student must provide a written email explaining their absence prior to the rehearsal or lesson. Students are expected to copy their parents into the email. Students are to contact the Coordinator, teacher, or tutor directly. These details are below.

Engagement in other College Programs

Sophia College supports and encourages students to be engaged in a wide range of extra-curricular activities. This may mean that during some seasons, students may have both a rehearsal, meeting and/or training session scheduled at the same time. If this occurs, the student is to contact both Program Coordinators to meet and discuss how they are to meet the requirements of both activities. An arrangement can be agreed upon that allows the students to meet both their commitments. This arrangement can only occur in the following circumstances:

- Both programs require students to be external representatives of the school
- The agreement is finalised as a contact between both Program Coordinators, the student, and a parent/guardian
- Does not apply to students who have commitments with clubs/groups outside of the school
- Does not apply to other regular student commitments such as work
- The student is maintaining all behaviour and academic obligations as per program policies
- Does not apply to more than two commitments at the same time.

Please note that pending the activity and commitments involved, an agreement such as this may not always be suitable.

Commitment

Unexpected departure from the program can upset planning and budgeting of the program. Parents are advised to seek advice from the Program Coordinator if your student's enthusiasm is decreasing, as there are often ways it can be restored. If after discussion you still wish to withdraw your student, you must give the program coordinator notice in writing of your intention to withdraw. Any withdrawal from the program is to be made at a mutually agreed time that does not impact negatively on other members. Program Fees will not be refunded should the withdrawal be made mid-term.

Practice

Students involved in the program are expected to practice their parts regularly at home. This ensures that rehearsals can focus on putting the parts together, rather than learning individual parts. It is also highly recommended that students practice in small sessions throughout the week, rather than in a large block one or two days a week. We encourage families to set a routine like the student's home learning routine. Parental support with home practice is very positive and encouraging for children. Please contact the Program Coordinator for ideas on how to motivate home practice.

Academic Obligations

Students involved across the Performing Arts Program will occasionally miss classes to attend rehearsals or performances. It is the responsibility, however, of all students involved in the program to seek materials missed and complete work from their regular classes. If a student becomes academically at risk or is not meeting home learning expectations, meetings with the parent, Program Coordinator, student, and a member of the Academic Leadership will be arranged to discuss the student's future in the program.

Behaviour

Involvement in the Performing Arts Program at Sophia College involves weekly rehearsals as well as occasional additional commitments. Actions of any individual can help or hinder entire rehearsals. Students are expected to follow all college behaviour expectations during rehearsals and performing arts events. This also includes upholding College expectations around behaviour during class, around the College and online. Repeat offenders or inappropriate behaviour may be removed from the rehearsal and/or the program at the discretion of the Program Coordinator, or the Academic Leadership team.

Performances

There are several performance opportunities and events during the year that allow students to showcase what they have learnt in the program. Performances are a compulsory part of engagement in the program. Work or other regular commitments are not an acceptable reason to miss performances.

Details of all performances will be outlined by a permission form via parent slips. It is important that permission forms are returned by the due date. If a student is unable to attend a performance the Program Coordinator is to be notified in writing via email prior to the due date of the form. It will otherwise be presumed that they are available to attend. Students are expected to be present for the full length of the performance unless approval has been sought from the program coordinator prior to the event. Many performances during the year require a minimum number of participants for the group to qualify for the performance.

Having a few group members missing from performances can have significant impact on others in the program.

Specific dates will be provided to families at the start of each term. Students will also perform internally at a variety of school events throughout the year including mass and liturgies.

Family Engagement

Performing Arts Support Group

Parent and family support are an important part of the program, particularly in keeping students actively engaged. Research indicates that parent support significantly increases the likelihood a student will maintain a commitment long-term.

The Performing Arts Support Group serve a vital role in several key events throughout the year. This ranges from volunteering for fundraising and performing arts events through to distributing advertisements for performances in the local community or baking goods to sell or serve at events.

If you are interested in being part of these events, or helping support activities throughout the year, please indicate this on your student's enrolment. Communication for this group is generally via email and doesn't require large commitments or meeting times outside of the events themselves.

Expectations of audience members

Throughout the year, family and friends will be welcome to attend events as students share their work from the program in both informal and formal settings. At these times, any audience member is bound by the following agreements. Failure to meet these expectations may result in being asked to leave events or prevented from attending future events.

- Cooperate with the College to achieve best outcomes for students
- Support teachers, performers, adjudicators, and event volunteers in create and safe and respectful environment for all students
- Encourage participation of all students
- Be courteous and constructive in communication with all members of the performing arts community including speaking positively about any student performances
- Make new parents and students feel welcome on all occasions
- Do not interfere with the conduct of any events

Payment Process

Program fees are invoiced to families along with College Fees. These are generally processed and updated by Week 5 of Term 1. Annual fees are non-refundable. Students will be unable to attend rehearsals and participate in the program until fees have been paid. If you have any questions in relation to your fees/account or are experiencing financial hardship, please contact the Business Manager, Denise McGeary via email: dmcgeary@bne.catholic.edu.au

How to Enrol

By enrolling in the program, it is assumed that both parents and students agreed to the terms outlined in this handbook. Parents are expected to attend an information session regarding the program in early Term 1. Additionally, students will attend a session where they will be provided with the contract below.

Performing Arts Student Contract

Overview

The Sophia College Performing Arts Code of Conduct is a commitment by the student to exercise good judgment, to represent self, school, family, and community in the most positive manner at all times, and to encourage others to share these ideals.

Participation in Performing Arts groups at the College is a privilege, not a right. In participating in the Sophia College Performing Arts Program, each student should develop a sense of pride in themselves, the school, and the community.

Expectations of Students

By signing the Performing Arts Contract, students are to adhere to the expectations outlined in the 'Sophia College Performing Arts Handbook' and understand that breach of these guidelines may result in the student's participation being monitored, suspended, or revoked. Additionally, these guidelines are in addition to the 'Sophia College Student Behaviour Plan' that students adhere to. In summary, these guidelines include:

- Student's commitment to the program
- Notification of absence/participation/injury
- Academic Obligations of a Sophia College Student
- Management of engagement in multiple College Co-Curricular Programs
- Exceed all behaviour expectations of a Sophia College Student
- Show leadership, respect, and pride to be a representative of Sophia College

Where unique behavioural events occur that are not explicitly stated in these documents, students may still receive appropriate consequences in line with any interpretation of the Sophia College Student Behaviour Plan.

Polygon Rental Advantage

Renting musical instruments with The Polygon Group provides your family with the flexibility you need.

We understand how expensive purchasing musical equipment outright can be. Beginners may be concerned whether the instrument is right for them. Parents may worry "will they continue to play?" and either not go ahead with their child learning or purchasing a below standard instrument instead.

With The Polygon Group you can rent high quality instruments for low monthly payments. You can return after the minimum rental period, apply to buy at any time (even after one day), or continue renting until you make a decision. For peace of mind, there is also an optional protection plan available too.

For almost 40 years our rental program has helped more than 200,000 Australians experience the joy of music.

To arrange your rental, simply scan the QR code below. This will take you to a simple contact form to complete, and we will be in touch to help with any questions you may have.
